PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in broken stone or rock ballast, thoroughly drained. It avoids all bridges of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

THE SAFETY APPLIANCES

in use on this line well illustrate the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed

TWO CONGRESSMEN.

From the following dispatches it now will be seen that the Congressional question is not yet settled. The contest will be transferred to the next House of Representatives, and then the whole should come out.

MAUCH CHUNK Pa., November 18.—The return judges of the Eleventh congressional district met here to-day. The judges from Carbon, Luzerne and Lackawanna counties made a return certifying to Gen. Albright's election by 61 plurality, and those from Pike, Monroe, Montour and Columbia counties certified to Robert Klotz's election by 95 plurality.

We agree with the Philadelphia Record that "honest money" had a great deal to do with the election. Its persuasive effect in Luzerne and Lackawanna counties is only too apparent.—Luzerne Union

It is with sincere satisfaction that we learn of the election of H. H Cummin, Esq as President Judge of Lycoming county. He is a sound Democrat, qualified for the position, unalterably honest, and has the merit of being opposed by a "Ring."

Andrew H. Dill has a worthy successor as senator in the person of S. P Wolverton, Esq He will bring to that body a large experience as a lawyer—as a man of strict integrity,—and as a legislator who is thoroughly posted as to the rigts and duties of our corporations and industrial classes

Hon. W. S. Stenger, of the XVIIIth Congressional District, has been defeated. This is a dire loss to the State and party. As a legislator he was able and upright. What a contrast to Klotz! But then the State Committee and McClure endorsed him, as it did Curtin and Dill.

The Hazleton Sentinel says:—

"KLOTZ ELECTED.—The indications are that Klotz is elected to Congress by from 1000 to 1500 majority."

Now Sanders, keep cool. A plurality of 95 does not justify such wild assertions.

The Minnequa Springs Hotel Burned.

CANTON, November 12.—About 2 o'clock this morning a fire was discovered in the east wing of the Minnequa Springs hotel, and before it could be extinguished the entire structure was destroyed. From the fact that no fire has been kept in that wing it is supposed to be incendiary in its origin. Nothing was saved, the inmates barely escaping with their lives. The loss is estimated at $75,000; insured for $50,000

[Minnequa, the scene of this conflagration, is in Bradford county, on the line of the Northern Central railroad, 41 miles north of Williamsport. Mr. Peter Herdic, whose recent failure has been a matter of much comment, was one of the principal property owners at Minnequa, and for several years labored earnestly to build up the place and make it a popular summer resort. One of his projects in connection therewith was to secure the formation of a new county, of which Minnequa was to be the county seat. The destruction of the hotel, which was the leading attraction of the place, will be a severe blow to its future.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10, 1873.

The late failure here of a National Bank and a Savings Bank, for reason not yet officially expressed, and the wide distress caused thereby, and the unprecedented hardness of times in Washington while our population is steadily increasing, have anew called the attention of business men and laboring men to the prospect before them. It is not too much to say that the feeling is of great uneasiness. After resumption, now fixed at less than sixty days ahead, shall have been brought about, if it shall have less beneficial effects than are expected by its supporters, there will be here, and probably elsewhere, a condition of affairs never before known. It is not pleasant to think of what may happen.

TO THE PUBLIC.

If my enemies and supposed friends had left my name alone as connected with the late Congressional campaign after I was declared out of the field, I would have suffered in silence, trusting to time to make all things even. But the desire to kick a man when he is down is so prevalent, and the anti-campaign calumnies are still repeated with such virulence from local papers down to the Philadelphia Times, that in vindication of myself—of the friends who so nobly supported me, and as an explanation to those who so credulously believed slanders started at the last moment, when it was impossible to refute them,—I deem it my duty to state what I have done, and why I did it;—something I defy my political opponents to do, and tell the truth. I had not only Albright, Klotz, and Orvis to contend with, but the Democratic State, County, and District committees, many of the latter set up against me at the last moment by a process Klotz designates as "greasing."

My first conversation about the Congressional question, I think was with Klotz at the Wyoming Centennial. He distrusted Montour, and feared Luzerne and Pike had made an alliance with Brandon. He denounced Megargell,—asked me to carry Columbia and lower Luzerne, and he would carry Carbon and Monroe. Thus we would hold the balance of power, and if I could not win, I might be in position to aid him, or hold the scales even. With slight effort I carried this County against two opposing candidates. Senator Buckalew was instructed as one of the delegates for me in East Bloom, and the Convention unanimously ratified my selection of Lowenberg, Swisher and Hoffman.

THE FIRST TRICK.

My friends worked industriously in Luzerne, and with the more hope because I thought she would not claim a third term. I met the Convention at Hazleton, and was told it was all right for me, but that the friends of Dr. Fruit desired to give him a complimentary vote, but that I might name the conferees. It was not stipulated where they should come from. I did not name them then because Dr. Fruit was inaccessible.

THE STROUDSBURG CONVENTION.

This was held on Tuesday Oct. 8, by reason of a peremptory order from Senator Rowland, who it seems by a rule of the original conference had the authority to do so,—a rule rigidly enforced by Klotz previously; and we hastily gathered at Stroudsburg. On reaching there, to my surprise I found that the conferees from Montour, Pike, Lackawanna, and a contesting delegation from Luzerne had already organized under the plea that we had not reached the appointed place at the appointed time. This we deemed discourteous; but have since learned that the move was prompted by the statement of Klotz, and his friends, that I would reject representation from Lackawanna, and not hear contestants from Luzerne.

MAUCH CHUNK, Sept. 27, 1878.

Rowland has fixed October first, in the morning for meeting. He and Storm say Stroudsburg. Can or will you folks be there. Answer.

ROBT. KLOTZ.

Columbia holding the balance of power, and never for a moment doubting that there would be an amicable settlement of the disputed points went into a separate conference, reserving all our rights, and after numerous overtures and ballotings, without my advice, an adjournment was made by the one body to Hazleton, and by the other to Scranton. I believed the contest should have been fought and settled on that line.

THE HAZLETON CONFEREES.

I got none of them. Even Brittain who had been agreed upon, and as Gorman said, was appointed, never had notice, and the telegram he said he sent from Stroudsburg to Wilkes-Barre, where Brittain was waiting at Sheriff Kikendall's was never received, if sent. If Brittain was the regular appointee, as Gorman acknowledged at the break-up at Hazleton, and he served in his place, by what authority did he do it?

During all this time we had no dispatches from visiting statesmen, (or at least I had none.)

AS TO LACKAWANNA COUNTY.

I have always been in favor of proportional representation in conventions and conferences based upon some definite vote. That has been a contested question in our Legislative, Senatorial, and Congressional Conventions for years, and has led to interminable and ever recurring contests. It made the contest between Buckalew and Chalfant in 1869 in Montour and Columbia in 1870, and lead to the withdrawal of Col. Freeze, D. Lowenberg, and Dr. Swisher from the Congressional Conference, Wilkes-Barre in 1874. The erection of Lackawanna county threw a new question to the fore, as to whether she was entitled to separate and equal representation was a question. Previous to the meeting of the Conference, in separate conversations with Brandon and Klotz we all deemed it a grave question, but I then suggested Columbia's old position, that Carbon and Montour should agree to proportional representation, but not to ignore Lackawanna! Both ultimately declined the proposition, and then, as the original resolution was held to be in full force and virtue, and as no solution of the question was proposed except the exclusion of Lackawanna altogether, I determined to have the rule carried into full effect. The minutes show the resolution to be "that all counties or parts of counties composing the 11th Congressional District shall each be entitled to three conferees." I believed then as now that it was not equal representation; but Carbon and Monroe should not complain of a rule which they had voted to adopt, against the voice of Columbia and Luzerne; and as every other rule of that original convention was insisted on by them that should be also. Even Klotz's chief fugleman—Gorman—President of the Hazleton Convention, in regard to Lackawanna's representation, in a letter to Brittain, said:—"Some contend that we are entitled to but three Conferees Lackawanna inclusive. Now I hold as the rule says, "all counties and parts of counties are entitled to three Conferees each" and we being separate and distinct counties that we (Luzerne) and Lackawanna should send three each."

THE PIKE CONTEST.

This was trivial, and the admission of the Lewis delegation would have been so unfair, that the motion to admit the contestants after investigation was tabled.

THE CASE STATED.

When we met at Hazleton the situation was thus: Montour, Pike and Lackawanna, with nine uncontested Conferees, were in session at Scranton, with three Conferees contested from Luzerne. At Hazleton were uncontested Conferees from Columbia, Carbon and Monroe, with three contested seats from Luzerne. The one body had admitted one set of contestants, and the other its rival set. In a word it was a draw game—a tie.

WHAT TO DO?

That was the question!

Storm was the "dark horse," and Fruit a mere "stool pigeon." Of course Storm don't want his letters quoted;—of course those who wanted me to be the cats paw to pull their chestnuts from the fire do not want me to mention their names, because, they wish some one else enventually to represent Columbia or Montour. But the withdrawal of Storm and Fruit nominally narrowed the contest in the Hazleton Conference to Klotz and myself. Neither could make the nomination under the rule (ignoring Lackawanna) without one Conference vote from the other.

Which would yield? We dared not because even if honest, the bald faced propositions to accept large amounts of money, would have damned Conferees and principal together. A consultation was held in my room, and on Wednesday it was unanimously agreed that we should leave the Conference in a body for home. All pledged themselves not to vote for Klotz, especially as he declared he would sit there "until H—— froze over" before he would yield or compromise. At noon of Wednesday, our satchels were at the hotel office, our bills paid, but in the hopes of compromise I was induced to remain one day.

We again formally resolved that we would leave for home the following day in a body. Previous to departing I draw a document, in Klotz's presence. The following of which is a copy:

HAZLETON, PA., Oct. 15, 1878.

Hon. A. G. Broadhead.—Dear Sir:—I am just informed that under no circumstances will the Conferees of Carbon County vote for me as a nominee for Congress. If this be so, please inform me at once, and I "will govern myself accordingly."

Your Friend

C. B. BROCKWAY.

C. B. B.

Klotz objected to its delivery on the ground that he could not hold the Monroe delegation against Buckalew, nor Broadhead, nor did he believe I could hold Lowenberg. Against Klotz's protests I handed it to Mr. Broadhead, who insisted that he had frequently voted for me. This was true, when it made no nomination.

Train time came on Thursday, bills were paid,—satchels in hand,—and I formally announced to the conference that in accordance with a unanimous resolution of our delegation the Columbia candidate and conferees withdrew. As we were late, Sheriff Hoffman and myself picked up the "traps" of the party, and made the train. Between there and Tomhickon we discovered that Lowenberg and Swisher were not aboard, I proposed to go back, but acquieseed in Mr. Hoffman's suggestion that if we did so, it would look as if we did not mean what we said. But from Tomhickon I telegraphed our missing friends to join us. Reaching Bloomsburg, I received such additional information as to certain intrigues that we determined to go to Scranton to view the situation there. It was not understood nor agreed that we would join the Scranton conference. On reaching there I had full evidence of what such "visiting statesmen" as Clymer and Myers had attempted to do, and having formally withdrawn from the Hazleton conference, as we had the right to do, I decided to join the Scranton one, which certainly had delegates from the uncontested counties of Montour and Pike, and under the rule of 1874, of Lackawanna. I then telegraphed to my other conferees to meet me at Scranton.

To that I received the following answer:

HAZLETON, PA., Oct. 17, 1878.

Mr. L. declines to come. Klotz nominated by majority vote, no possible chance to come to-night as there are no trains. If needed let me know to-morrow morning.

T. J. SWISHER.

I then telegraphed to Swisher to come, and received the following dispatch:

HAZLETON, PA, Oct. 17, 1878.

Yours not received until after five p. m., train gone, can't get away to-night.

T. J. SWISHER.

The following morning, Oct. 18th, I received from Swisher the following dispatch: "Impossible to get there before three p. m. Will that be too late? Answer."

I replied that he would be in time.

To my surprise he did not come, and then I telegraphed to different persons and places to find out where Lowenberg and Swisher were, and what they intended to do. Among other dispatches was one to G. A. Clark, whom I supposed to be one of my warmest friends. In fact in 1874, he carried his friendship so far as to vote for me for Congress, although I was not a candidate. He replied that Swisher and Lowenberg refused to come. I then telegraphed them to send me blank substitutions by telegraph, and received the following reply:

"We decline to make any substitution whatever."

DAVID LOWENBERG.
T. J. SWISHER.

THE SOLUTION OF THE QUESTION.

I then substituted for them, Jacob L. Girton of Bloomsburg and Col. A. D. Seely of Berwick. These two substitutes, with Sheriff Hoffman then joined the Scranton Conference, which, by resolution, accepted the substitution. At Mr. Buckalew's suggestion that the nomination should be made inside the District as a matter of form, the Conference a journed from the Democratic Head Quarters at the St. Charles Hotel, to Rosen's Hall in the 11th ward, a portion of our incongruous District. There I received the Conferee vote of Columbia, Montour, Pike Lackawanna, and the contested detegation of Luzerne. In other words, four ont of seven counties voted for me, (excluding Luzerne) Klotz had but Carbon and Monroe, outside of Luzerne, or six Conferees out of 21, including Lackawanna.

As other and graver questions have been raised in this issue which may effect future Conferences as well as myself, I reserve their discussion until I can get possession of certain documents, and ask my friends to preserve this communication so that it may be read in connection with the one to follow.

The above has been read to T. J. Swisher and J. W. Hoffman, who concur in the statement of facts.

C. B. BROCKWAY.

It is with much regret that we learn of the defeat of Ex-Governor Curtin in the Centre District, which had a Democratic majority of 5,000. He would have been a credit to the party, to the District, State, and nation. The slimy praise of the Philadelphia Times, and the imbecility of Speer's Committee undoubtedly caused his defeat.

Truth and Soberness.

What is the best family medicine in the world to regulate the bowels, purify the blood remove costiveness and billiousness, aid digestion and stimulate the whole system?

Truth and soberness compels us to answer, Hop Bitters, being pure and harmless. See 'Truths' in another column.

A T. Stewart's Body Stolen.

The discovery was made on the morning of the 7th inst., that at the dead of night robbers had broken into the vault in which was the body of the late millionaire, Alexander T. Stuart, and had taken away the remains. St. Marks is one of the most ancient existing landmarks of old upper New York, and its graveyard contains the remains of many men who had national as well as local fame. The Stuyvesants, Wyntrops, Decklins, Cockrofts, Ewens, Tookers, Van Burens and other honored names are commemorated by plain tablets. Passers-by can see into every corner of the churchyard through the heavy spiked iron fence that surrounds it. Mr. Stewart's family vault is on the east side of the church and about fifteen paces from it. Like all the others, it is flush with the ground and was marked prior to the robbery by a simple white tablet, inscribed: "No. 112 Alex'r T. Stewart's family vault."

MAKING THE DISCOVERY.

At 7.45 a. m., Frank Parker, the assistant sexton of the church, went into the churchyard. His attention was attracted to little mounds of earth beside the Stewart vault, and he hurried to the spot. A hole three feet long by two wide and three deep had been dug above the vault, and looking down into it Parker discovered that one of the roof stones of the vault, which should have been tightly cemented was loose. In the immediate vicinity of the vault the earth and grass were trodden down, but there were no traces of footsteps distinct enough to measure. On the grass five feet away no footsteps were traceable, nor did the adjoining tablets show marks of muddy boots. As soon as he had examined the outside of the vault and its surroundings, Parker ran to the office of the sexton, George W. Hamill, and told him of his fears and suspicions. Mr. Hamill and his business partner, Mr. Carpenter, instantly called upon Judge Hilton. Judge Hilton lost no time in giving warning to the police.

From the Central office he drove to the church, and the violated tomb was opened. As the loosened stone was removed an almost overpowering stench arose from the vault. Through the opening in the roof there could be dimly seen on the floor of the vault an open coffin, with the head pointing toward the stairs. The other coffins had not been disarranged. In the vault the undertakers and the sextons found considerable disorder. The heavy cedar casket, which enclosed a casket of lead, the latter enclosing the splendid rosewood coffin was uncovered. Its lid had been unscrewed and the zinc with which it was lined to make it air-proof was cut. One corner of the lid was broken off, as if with a hammer; otherwise the outer box was not damaged. The leaden casket had been cut open, apparently with a sharp knife, and the coffin, thus removed from its outer covering, had been deliberately opened. On the floor of the vault lay a common shovel, such as is used in putting coal on the fire, and a bull's eye dark lantern. There were no footsteps and no clues to the identification of the robbers other than these.

OUTSIDE THE VAULT.

Outside the vault a long plank was found, mud marked and frayed at one end, showing that it had been used as a lever to pry up a heavy stone. The little shovel was covered with red earth and slightly turned up at one corner, as if it had been pressed with great force against a stone or some other hard substance. The only objects carried away by the robbers, as far as is known, were Mr. Stewart's body and coffin plate. The stench in the vault showed that the body was very much decomposed, but experts say that in spite of this it must have retained most of its original form, having been thoroughly embalmed. Thus, they argue, it would have been easy to put it into an India rubber bag and carry it away. Mr Hamill expressed the opinion that no one unaccustomed to the handling of corpses in an advanced stage of decomposition could have removed Mr. Stewart's body, and the police advanced the theory that the robbery was committed by an undertaker or an undertaker's assistant, saying that professional cracksmen could not be hired to go into a close vault for love or money, and that no men are more affected by the horrors of decomposition. Acting Superintendent Dilks sent out a general alarm and ordered out the detective force in addition to Inspector Murray and his staff. Until late in the day there was absolutely no clew. Stories were about that an express wagon had been seen in Eleventh street, near the church, late on Wednesday night, but nobody could be found who had seen it. Later it was ascertained that the shovel and the bull's eye lantern were purchased in Chatham street a few weeks ago, but the storekeeper who sold them could not describe the person who purchased them.

The coffin plate carried away by the robbers cost thirty dollars, and was of silver. It was taken, doubtless, as a means of identification, and this lead the detectives to the belief that the motive of the robbery was to blackmail Judge Hilton. If that is their object they will fail, for no reward is to be offered. The police believe that the robbers failing to get reward and dispose of the body by removal from the city or concealment in a house, will try to bury it. In that event their capture is certain.

WHAT JUDGE HILTON SAYS.

Judge Hilton said this evening: "About a month ago the sexton of St. Mark's church Mr. George W. Hamill came to him, at the upper store and told him that somebody had been tampering with the slab that marked the entrance to the top of Mr. A. T. Stewart's family vault in the churchyard of St. Mark's. This slab is a stone about two feet six inches wide by two feet, an ordinary slab such as covers the other vaults in the churchyard. The slab had been pried up and then pushed back. There were marks in the sod of the crowbar that had been used in moving the slab. It should be remembered, however, that this slab did not cover the entrance to the vault, but was placed at the side of the real cover, which consisted of three stone slabs covered with about one foot of earth and overgrown with sod.

The vault is about thirty feet from Second avenue, between Tenth and Eleventh streets. I said: "That is very singular. What can be the motive of such an act? I knew that people had been in the habit of going in there to look at the slab. I suppose that the impression got abroad that there was a large amount of valuables, consisting of silver and gold ornaments, buried in the vault with the body of Mr. Stewart. Stories have been circulated that there were many silver and gold ornaments. I never knew exactly what the coffin had of silver ornaments until to-day. The undertaker' tells me that the only pure silver on it was the plate, which was on the inner side of the coffin lid. This lid opened half way down and the plate was on the under side, so that after the closing of the lid the plate was inside. It was in the centre of the lid at the point where the muslin of the lining converges. I never took pains to contradict the extravagant stories that were told at the time of the funeral about the reckless expenditure for gold bullion and the like. The only silver or valuables of any kind in this coffin was this plate.

TAKING ALL PRECAUTIONS.

'After talking over the matter with Mr. Hamill he said: I'll tell you what you had better do. I think it would be a good plan to change the location of the slab, so that people may think the vault is in another place.' 'A good idea,' I said that's just exactly the thing.' And I told him to do that and place the slab over the barren ground and to take every precaution and send the bills to me. He was authorized to get some of the best custom house locks and to employ a watchman. He had special directions to remove the slab with the greatest possible secrecy, so as not attract the attention of any one, and he was even to employ the watchman without letting him know the special purpose of his being hired, but with general directions to keep a sharp lookout on the church and church-yard. He removed the slab, as directed, and even went as far as to put fresh grass in its place and keep it watered, so that there was really nothing to mark the entrance to the vault containing Mr. Stewart's body. No one but the undertaker, Mr. Hamill, and his deputy knew of this. I spoke of it to Mr. Libbey. Did not tell anyone else, not even Mrs. Stewart. When the undertaker came and told me he had done all this and removed the slab to the Tenth street side I felt perfectly satisfied that every thing was safe. Any one not knowing what had been done, who would have gone up there to look at Mr. Stewart's grave, would have looked at this slab, which we placed about thirty feet away for the purpose of deceiving violaters of his grave. There, are therefore, three points of evidence that show that whoever did this violation of Mr. Stewart's grave was familar with the grounds. First they knew the vault was not under the slab that contained his name; second, they knew that the body had not been moved from its original resting place; third, they knew where the only piece of silver on the coffin was.

THE FIRST NEWS.

The news that the body of Mr. Stewart had been taken came to me through Mr. Hamill, the undertaker, at half-past nine o'clock this morning, at my house. When I got there I found that the sod had been taken off with the most surprising neatness to the exact edge of the stone the only stone required to be moved to gain the access to the vault, although on occasion of interment the three are generally removed. It struck me as exceedingly singular that the removal of the earth to get at the flagstone could be so accurately upon the exact line required. There was not an inch of variation. The vault is about ten feet square, with a flight of steps. Mr. Stewart's body lay in a rosewood and mahogany coffin enclosed in a lead coffin, and these were enclosed in a box. His body was clothed in an ordinary dress suit. I found that all the coffins had been broken open and that Mr. Stewart's body had been taken away, together with the silver plate I have spoken of. The robbers had left, an ordinary bull's eye lantern and common little fire-shovel that had never been used before. There was none of the ordinary appliances of burglars but these odd tools, that seemed to indicate that they were new at the business. They pried open the top wooden box, then forced open the lead coffin and tore off the screws of the cloth covered coffin containing the body. They must have taken out the body with the clothes on. My first impression was that we had better keep quiet and that we could do nothing about it, but upon reflection I determined to enlist the whole police force to aid us. We about came to the conclusion that whatever money is offered as reward should be for the punishment of the criminals. We are satisfied that whoever has got the body in such a decomposed state cannot keep it above ground without detection of some one of our twenty-five hundred policemen. I think that you will hear of something from the police that will give some clue to the perpetrators. I cannot tell you the names of those suspected.

"Arrangements were in progress, were they not, to have the remains of Mr. Stewart interred in the Garden City Cathedral?" was asked. "Yes," said Judge Hilton, "the crypt is almost ready to be raised. Here are the designs, beautiful designs approved and contracted for. The crypt will be of marble. Under the chancel, which is in place of the church, the crypt, in fact with the chapel in front of it, about fourteen feet square, will be a sort of a basement to the church. The diameter of the crypt, which is octagonal and of solid carved statuary marble is about twenty-five feet. Of course it will be costly, but not such enormous extravagance as has been spoken of. It will be a fitting adjunct to the beautiful church which Mrs. Stewart has erected to her husband's memory. "You are certain that there were no jewels buried with Mr. Stewart's body?" "Why, Mr. Stewart never wore jewelry in his life; it is only of late years that he would wear sleeve buttons, and his watch chain was a silk cord. If I had allowed him to be buried with jewlery I should have expected him to be after me the next night. I persuaded him to buy the sleeve-buttons in Paris, but he left his old one troubled him. But he never wore jewelry, and none was buried with him, not even the pearl studs, which he never wore.' How about offering a reward, Mr. Hilton?"

'My first impression,' said Judge Hilton, 'was that those who violated this grave should not get a cent for it, that we would depend upon the police to find the body, which we thought would be very a easy thing from the fearful effluvia, but I shall be guided by the commissioners and nothing shall be left undone to bring the criminals to justice. Orders have already been given to keep watch at all the ferries.'

A reward of $25.000 has been offered by Mrs. Stewart for the conviction of the guilty parties.

AN ASTONISHING FACT.

A large proportion of the American people are to-day dying from the effects of Dyspepsia or disordered liver. The result of these diseases upon the masses of intelligent and valuable people is most alarming, making life actually a burden instead of a pleasant existence of enjoyment and usefulness as it ought to be. There is no good reason for this, if you will only throw aside prejudice and skepticism, take the advice of Druggists and your friends, and and try one bottle of Green's August Flower. Your speedy relief is certain. Millions of bottles of this medicine have been given away to try its virtues, with satisfactory results in every case. You can buy a sample bottle for ten cents to try. Three doses will relieve the worst case. Positively sold by all druggists on the Western Continent.

NOTHING SHORT OF UNMISTAKABLE BENEFITS Conferred upon tens of thousands of sufferers could originate and maintain the reputation which Ayer's Sarsaparilla enjoys. It is a compound of the best vegetable alteratives, with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most effectual of all remedies for Scrofulous, mercurial, or blood disorders. Uniformly successful and certain in its remedial effects, it produces rapid and complete cures of Scrofula, Sores, Boils, Humors, Pimples, Eruptions, Skin Diseases and all disorders arising from impurity of the blood. By its invigorating effects it always relieves and often cures Liver Complaints, Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, and is a potent renewer of vitality. For purifying the blood it has no equal. It tones up the system, restores and preserves the health, and imparts vigor and energy. For forty years it has been in extensive use, and is to-day the available medicine for the suffering sick, anywhere.

A CORRECTION.—After the footings of the election table had been made last week some changes were made in the table by comparing it with the official vote which changed the totals. The work was done hurriedly, as it had to be to get it in last week, and this change in totals was overlooked. Our attention has been called to the fact that the vote for Auditor should be S. E. Smith, 3274 instead of 3168, William L. Manning 3271 instead of 3127.

Many citizens of this town were exceedingly anxious to get election returns on Tuesday night of last week. Seeing a chance for a "grab," the Western Union fixed its price for returns at twenty dollars. The parties interested refused to pay this extortionate sum, and through the kindness of Dennis McDonald were taken to Rupert in a head car, where they received the news in a much better shape for seven dollars, over the Reading Rail Road wires. We learn that failing to squeeze twenty dollars, the Western Union came down to ten dollars or less.

In order to make the political record complete, it should be stated that Colonel Freeze addressed the Dill Club, at the Hall in the Borough of Berwick, on Monday evening Nov. 4th. Hudson Owen presided, and the Band discoursed excellent music.

As heretofore announced, a democratic meeting was held in Jackson Nov. 2d; at which Judge Derr presided, assisted by Wm. Lawton, Elisha Robbins, Wesley Morris and David Dreibleibis as Vice Presidents, and Alinas Cole and Geo. W. Derr as Secretaries.

Charles W. Miller, Esq., and Col. John G. Freeze addressed the meeting.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

The regular monthly meeting was held at the Council room on the evening of November 7th, Herring, President and Drinker, Sharpless, Evans, Rabb and Holmes present. Minutes of last meeting read and approved. Street Commissioner Shaffer reported that owing to the sickness of G. B. Graul, contractor for the mason work on the Coleman bridge the work was done by John Reimer at 50 cents per perch. The President reported that D. J. Waller Sr., donates to the town land used in opening and extending West street, and that the necessary papers would be signed to that effect. Mr. Drinker of the committee on issue of Town bonds reported that the committee had not yet held a meeting. On motion the matter of the payment of state tax on the Town bonds was referred to the solicitor, who shall advise at the next meeting as to whether the said tax should be paid by the Town, or by the holders of the bonds. The President reported that he had been served with a notice to open a road from M. Appleman's to Scott township line. On motion the following bills were approved and the Secretary authorized to draw orders for the same:

Shaffer, street Commissioner,	$119 98
Bloomsburg Gas Co., for Oct.,	46 08
L. Runyon & Co., Hardware,	5,65
J. S. Evans, pick and hammer handles,	4.30
E. Mendenhall, Lumber,	11,34
J. Hess,	5.50
J. Thomas, Constable,	8.25
J. C. Sterner, Police bill,	21,00

Street Commissioner presented a bill for collection against Bloomsburg Lumber Co., for cleaning out ditch $2 00, to which 20 per cent. was added, and bill referred to solicitor. On motion Council adjourned to meet November 13th 1878.

The Republican says the election table in the COLUMBIAN last week was "full of errors." As stated elsewhere, the table was hastily prepared of necessity, in order to publish it last week. We are under obligations to one of the editors of the Republican for assistance in adding up the columns in which several errors occurred.

The Democratic papers of this county were held somewhere last week after leaving the post office here, apparently for the purpose of delaying the last issue before the election. This was a contemptible trick, and if ever practiced again we shall take prompt measures to ascertain who the guilty parties are.

A fire in Orangeville on Friday afternoon destroyed considerable property and threatened the destruction of the town. The fire started in Delong's stable, and three of his barns, and one belonging to Mr. Low were burned before the flames could be got under control. The fire companies of this place were sent for, but before they got started word came that the fire was checked.

Last week, Tuesday, in accordance with the law, the Court convened for the purpose of counting the votes of the county. All the returns were found correct except in four districts where the election boards had not made their returns in proper form. In two of them the return sheets contained a list of names of all candidates without stating for what office votes had been cast for them. In the others, the number of votes had not been set out in figures and words at length Warrants were issued for the officers of the four districts to come into Court and correct their returns. They appeared on Saturday and the counting of the votes was completed. Election officers should exercise great care in making out their returns, and thus save themselves and the county much cost.

A RELIABLE LIFE INSURANCE POLICY.—We take pleasure in commending to our readers a thoroughly safe and reliable life insurance agency, whose funds or assets are inexhaustible. It is a stock company operating under the Joint title—Health. Life policies are issued in the form of Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets (which, if taken as directed, insure the system against disease) upon payment of a very small fee. All the principal druggists are constituted agents.

The thanks of the senior editor are due James Keeley, Esq., for courtesies extended him during a recent visit to the interior of the North Ashland Colliery in Conyngham township To understand the labors and dangers of a miner's life it is necessary to go down where they work. The nuggets of coal which Sheriff Hoffman and the senior editor "dug out" will be preserved as relics.

PROVIDENCE, R. I, Sept. 16, 1874

DR. GILES:—I paid one hundred dollars to a veterinary surgeon for medicine and attendance on a valuable saddle horse, without any benefit. He was lame from a curb for more than a year, and useless in consequence of it. No remedy I could find had any effect. I applied the Liniment Iodide Ammonia, and to my great surprise found that it removed both lump and lameness. Having driven him recently over a very rough road, sixty miles in two days—two of the hottest days this summer—without the least symptoms of return of curb or lameness. As a precaution, I took a bottle of liniment with me, but had no occasion to use it. In all cases where a liniment can be applied it gives me the greatest satisfaction.

A GOOD INCOME FOR SOME ENERGETIC LADY OR GENTLEMAN.

The Ohio Scale Works, of Cincinnati have just completed and are now introducing to the public, under the title of the UNIVERSAL FAMILY SCALE, an article that has always been needed in every household; and, in a communication addressed to the publishers of this paper, the proprietors ask us to refer them to some reliable party who will represent them in introducing it to the people of this county. It is very seldom that a new article stepped suddenly into universal favor. Housekeepers are loud in its praise, for it possesses the merit of being always ready; there are no weights to hunt up and adjust, is always reliable—will not get out of order—and is an ornament to the kitchen. The description is simply a base surmounted by a hollow column, in which works a spiral spring so scientifically gauged and adjusted as to weigh anything up to twelve pounds with perfect accuracy. On the top of the column is a platform on which the articles to be weighed are placed. By the mere turning of a screw the tare of the dish, plate, or whatever you may use in weighing, is taken out and the net weight given. Housekeepers at once see its value in weighing sugar or fruit, in making preserves or jellies, or in testing the butcher's or grocer's weight, and the thousand and one cases that occur where something that should be weighed accurately is necessary. The Scales are handsomely painted and bronzed, and are sold about one-third the price charged for the inferior scales of the same capacity. It seems to us that nearly every family in this county would want one, it is certainly a rare opportunity for some smart energetic party to pick up quite a nice little income during the next few months. The Company has agents in no more favorable location who are making $5 00 to $10 00 per day, and there are certainly several in this vicinity who could do as well. We recommend such to address the Ohio Scale Works, Elm and George Streets, Cincinnati, O., and all information, etc., will be cheerfully given them by meet'oning our paper

In Northern China arsenic is mixed with tobacco for smoking, and missionaries state that the men who smoke this mixture are stout fellows with lungs like bellows and rosy cheeks. Trousseau, and more recently Laude, have recommended the smoking of arsenical cigarrettes in lung diseases.

MEETING OF CONGRESSIONAL RETURN JUDGES AT MAUCH CHUNK.

The Return Judges of the Eleventh Congressional District met at Mauch Chunk, the place fixed by law on Tuesday, November 12th, 1878, E. B. Quick, of Pike, Wm H. Vanwie, of Monroe, James Aul of Montour G. L. Halsey, of Luzerne, Mr. Remmel, of Carbon and B. F Zarr, of Columbia being present at the Court House. A temporary organization was made by electing B. F. Zarr Chairman and G. L. Halsey, Secretary. On motion the returns Judges presented their credentials. Upon the presentation of the credentials of Mr. Aul from Montour Halsey and Remmel objected to it on the ground that it did not set forth that there was no resident Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of said county and further it did not set forth that the associates were candidates, the credentials of Mr Aul having been made by the Register of Wills, Sheriff, and Commissioners of said county. Mr. Zarr said this was an objection too technical, and the credentials were strictly in accordance with the provisions of the law and that credentials were of no importance if the certificate of the votes cast and computed were in sufficient form to ascertain the vote cast for the several candidates. Up to this time no return Judge from Lackawanna having put in an appearance, Halsey moved an adjournment to give time to the Lackawanna Judge to arrive. This motion carried and an adjournment was had until 2 o'clock p. m. At 2 p. m. the Judge not having arrived another adjournment was had at the instance of Mr. Halsey to 5 p. m. Met at 5 p. m. and then adjourned until 8 p. m.

At 8 o'clock p. m., Mr. David P. Barton, appeared as return Judge of Lackawanna, with certificate signed by Judges Handley and Stanton, whereupon Mr. Halsey filed or presented a protest and claimed to be the return Judge also of Lackawanna, on the ground that the act erecting Lackawanna county did not provide for a congressional return Judge of that county. Mr. Remmel presented a protest against the counting of the vote of Montour county for the reasons heretofore stated. At this point Mr. Zarr, stated that the duty of return Judges was very plain under the law, being simply ministerial, not having judicial powers, nor were they the proper tribunal to settle questions of the character raised, and the time for casting up the votes of the district and making certificates was drawing to a close, and as far as he was concerned he proposed to hear no more bull-dozing but to enter upon the discharge of his duty, when the return Judges of Montour, Monroe, Pike and Lackawanna expressed themselves of the same opinion, and the certificates of the gentlemen of the five counties were presented and the casting up of the votes was begun. At this point Mr. Halsey and Mr. Remmel took a higher seat, to-wit: the Judges Bench, and decided that they were now ready to receive the returns of the congressional return judges. Mr. Halsey nominated Mr. Remmel as President, put the motion and voted it. They called two gentlemen from the audience to act as Clerks of their re urning board.

Mr. Halsey in a loud voice called off the vote of the several counties from a memorandum except the county of Montour, declaring Mr. Albright's majority in the district to be 61 votes. Halsey and Remmel then adjourned and left the court room. The return Judges of the counties of Montour, Columbia, Monroe, Pike and Lackawanna continued their duties where they were seated, making their proper certificates and finding by the true and correct count in the district Mr Klotz's majority to be 95 votes and by the certificates presented by the five return Judges Mr. Klotz's majority was 994 Halsey and Remmel were recognized as return Judges of Carbon and Luzerne, and when they announced the votes of those counties, they were counted by the return Judges and certificates made accordingly. At no time before the arrival of Mr. Barton did Mr. Halsey claim to be return Judge for Lackawanna, but on the contrary stated repeatedly that they had a certificate from the Prothonotary showing the vote, which certificate he exhibited to several gentlemen. The return Judges of the five counties having made their certificate from the whole vote cast in the district, adjourned

IN THE WHOLE HISTORY OF MEDICINE

No preparation has ever performed such marvellous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving sufferer, and often saving life. The protection it affords, by its timely use in the throat and lung disorders of children, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every house. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. From their knowledge of its composition and effects, Physicians use the Cherry Pectoral extensively in their practice, and Clergymen recommend it. It is absolutely certain in its remedial effects, and will always cure where cures are possible.

Various Causes—

Advancing years, care, sickness disappointment and hereditary predisposition all operate to turn the hair gray, and neither of them inclines it to restore it naturally. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR will restore faded or gray hair and to the young it imparts a rich brown or deep black as may desired. It acts as an elegant dressing, giving it a healthy action, and removes and cures dandruff and humors. By its use baldness is checked, and a new growth will be produced in all cases where the follicles are not destroyed or glands decayed. Its effects are beautifully shown on brushy, weak or sickly hair, to which a few applications will produce the gloss and freshness of youth. Harmless and sure in its operation it is incomparable as a dressing, and is especially valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts. It contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil or color white cambric; yet it lasts long on the hair, and keeps it fresh and vigorous.

ANTI-FAT

ALLEN'S ANTI-FAT is the great remedy for Corpulency. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. It acts on the food in the stomach, preventing the conversion of the starch, sugar, &c., into fat. It will reduce a fat person from 2 to 5 pounds a week.

In offering this remedy before the public as a positive cure for Corpulency, we do not claim it will try to cure, as attested by hundreds of testimonials, of which the following from a party in Columbus, Ohio, is a sample: "Gentlemen—Your Anti-Fat was duly received. I took it according to directions and it reduced me 10 pounds. I was so elated over the result that I immediately went to ACKERMAN'S drug-store for another bottle." Another, a prominent writing for a patient from Providence, R. I., says: "Your bottle have reduced her weight from 160 pounds to 132 pounds, and she is a general improvement in health." A gentleman writing from Boston, except "Without special change or attention to diet, two bottles of Allan's Anti-Fat reduced me four and one-quarter pounds." The well-known Whalesone firm of ENGLISH, SMITH, DOGGITTE & PAINE of Boston, Mass., write as follows: "Allan's Anti-Fat has reduced a lady in our city seven pounds in three weeks." A gentleman in St. Louis writes: "Allan's Anti-Fat reduced me twelve pounds in three weeks, and altogether I have lost twenty-six pounds since commencing its use." Messrs. POWELL & CLIFFORD, Jewelers, Cleveland, O., write: "To the Proprietors of ALLAN'S ANTI-FAT: Gentlemen.—The following report is from the lady who used Allen's Anti-Fat. 'At the Anti-Fat had the desired effect, reducing the fat from two to five pounds a week until I had lost twenty-six pounds. I hope never to regain what I have lost.'" Anti-Fat is an unrivalled blood-purifier. It promotes digestion, cures dyspepsia, and is also a great remedy for rheumatism. Sold by druggists. Pamphlet on Obesity sent on receipt of stamp. WOMAN

By an extensive practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to women, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of its high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have yet to see a case, which it will not relieve, when the symptoms indicate it, or to which it is adapted, that it will cure. I do not say it will cure every case, for there are many apparently hopeless cases of disease, and cases that will, at all times and under all circumstances, set at defiance the skill of the profession, but I will say that I have never yet found a case that it will not relieve, and in the most complete manner, when the symptoms of which I complained, it had been faithfully and fairly tried. I offer and will make a POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For particulars, see pamphlet wrapping bottle).

The following are among those diseases in which the Favorite Prescription has been found to act with singular efficacy and unfailing certainty, as if by magic, and which are rarely ever before attained by any medicinal combination, Excessive Flowing, (Uterine) Painful Menstruation, Suppression when from natural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Burning-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Irritation, Debility, Despondency, Mental Depression, Hysteria, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impudency of the Parts, Pain in the Ovaries, Bearing-down Pains, Pain in the Head, Backache as a "carryall," but it is more than this—it is a singleness of purpose, being a remedy for a specific class of diseases, and of the most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the kind or system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it disappoint in the hands of those professionals, in language at once clear, forcible and comprehensive. The articles are commonly more condensed and full of matter than the average books of the period.

To clubs of ten or more, in addition to the above discount, a copy gratis will be allowed to the getter up of the club.

PREMIUMS.

New subscribers (applying early) for the year 1878 may have, without charge, the numbers for the last quarter of 1877 of such periodicals as they subscribe for.

Or instead, new subscribers to any two, three, or four of the above periodicals, may have one of the "Four Reviews" for '77; subscribers to all five may have two of the "Four Reviews" or one set of Blackwood's Magazine for 1877.

Neither premiums to subscribers nor discount to clubs can be allowed, unless the money is remitted direct to the publishers. No premiums given to clubs.

To secure premiums it will be necessary to make early application, as the stock available for that purpose is limited.
